Lloyd George Horor
Miss Farrar's Sorrow
Men Love Mystery
120,000 Horses Compressed

Recently Lloyd George said when the armistice was declared England was preparing "more horrible war machinery than the world has yet seen."

One pleasant detail, it appears, of the unseen horrors was to be a fleet of super-submarines, carrying gigantic reservoirs of liquid fire. A submarine would pop up alongside of an unprotected sea coast city, proceed to spray that city with liquid fire, then submerge and depart, leaving the city to burn.

That would be an extremely useful weapon in war against Japan, where cities are made of bamboo and paper largely. It is to be hoped that the use of such horrors, or our own thoroughly perfected deadly liquid gas will never be forced upon this country.

Miss Geraldine Farrar, now weary of the handsome man in the world, once said, "One can be a splendid woman and a great artist, but not a great artist and a mother." This is a mistake. Madame Schumann-Heink proves it. She is a very great artist and has eight or nine children. Sarah Bernhardt also proved it. Dozens of others have done the same, and all were improved by having the children.

The fact is, probably, that women very successful, constantly praised, applauded and flattered, find it hard to restrict themselves to one man's consideration and company. Perhaps that is why wise women, because populating the earth was a pressing problem, has kept women in the background and pushed men forward. It mattered little what men did; they influence children but little.

The Ku Klux Klan, spreading North, establishes a new Nebraska branch in Lincoln. The literary style of the Klan is in words studying. "The imperial proclamation" is "done in the name of his majesty, the imperial wizard and emperor of the United Empire, the imperial palace." etc. The Klan will look after you "in the effluence of the light of life and send the subtle shades of death." The Klan has decided that where desirable can be attained through the channel of a high-toned, social, patriotic lodge system. It used to be thought that a democratic government with a perfected constitution for its foundation would answer, but conditions change.

By the growth of the Ku Klux Klan learn that as deer and buffaloes are exterminated by a piece of red paint and mounds by a bright light, so men are attracted by mystery and secrecy.

Twenty-six years ago electric generators were installed at Niagara. At that time, when the world was still in the infancy of its progress, the generators were still running. In Pittsburgh there has recently been installed a generator of 120,000 horsepower, and that runs smoothly. For a savage and uncivilized people, the generators that can do the physical work of enough horses to load all the streets of Pittsburgh.

How big will the generators be when the time and the sun itself are consumed? What will men accomplish when all demands for power will be met simply by pressing a button?

Coal miners and oil well workers will be out of jobs in that day, certainly, but they will be glad of it for the day's work will be pleasant work and reduced to two or three hours' except for those that prefer to work longer.

From Nelson B. Updike's thoroughly edited Omaha Bee you learn that, as far as farming conditions are, they might be worse. Excellent crops cheer up the farmer in spite of low prices, in some sections at least.

THE BATTLE OF BATTLE

Swampscott Man's Double Life Exposed ENGAGED TO SALEM GIRL GROOMED FOR 5 YEARS U. S. Declares Bitter War on Beer

By International News Service.
Washington, Aug. 9.—Prohibition Commissioner Hayes today declared war on beer when he issued instructions to all prohibition directors to immediately revoke the licenses of any brewers who manufactured beer of more than one-half of 1 per cent. volume of alcohol.

The commissioner announced that the past policy of fixing penalties for the manufacture of such beer would be abandoned and that in the future brewers who violated the law would be closed out of business.

HURIBURY CROSS-EXAMINED

TOLD JUDGE O'CONNELL HE MIGHT BRING O'CONNELL BACK

"Have my detective bothered clients of yours?" asked Allen.

"Yes, one has," said Tufts, and said that a large number were being "checked" by a detective employed by the attorney-general.

Tufts had an even earlier brush with Allen when asked about certain automobiles.

He said sharply that Allen himself had presented them when he was in the office of the attorney-general.

Allen asked Tufts to take charge of the auto theft cases in his office.

In these cases it is alleged Tufts said a certain sum of money had been promised to him for a certain purpose.

Tufts said he had been in the office of the attorney-general for a long time and had seen many cases of this kind.

He would not admit, however, that he was in the office of the attorney-general at the time of the case.

TUFTS ADMITS BREAKING TRUE NAME LAW

District Attorney Tufts was cross-examined by Huribury at his trial today on Barney's surrender.

Q.—O'Connell Officer O'Connell of Newton didn't tell you to register his name as Fleming? A.—I think he did.

Q.—When? A.—When he left the hotel at Greenfield and said we had better go to the other he said that he was registered as T. J. Fleming, I think. So I registered him under the same name.

Q.—You registered him as Thomas Fleming? A.—I think it was Fleming. I don't remember the first name.

Q.—You knew the true name law? A.—Yes.

Q.—You had read it? A.—I suppose I had.

Q.—You intentionally and deliberately registered Thomas Fleming for the purpose of deceiving people? A.—No. He had been there several days as Fleming. I naturally assumed he didn't want to change his name overnight. I thought it was foolish for detectives to go under their own names.

up deposits of Tufts of $1000 or over in the William Hallam Hotel.

These deposits, mostly by check, totaled about $10,000. Tufts explained the deposits in various ways. Some were settlements in estate in which he was executor or administrator. Some were receipts from the sale of real estate.

Tufts said that these were only for over $1000 for which he had been unable to account.

Q.—How much did you pay to each of the parties the second time? A.—I don't remember.

Q.—How much money did you pay to each of the parties the second time? A.—I don't remember.

Q.—How much money did you pay to each of the parties the second time? A.—I don't remember.

WHAT THE STORY? HE SAID HE HOPED TO GET BARNEY. HE SAID HE COULD NOT TELL THE STORY AS HE WAS HAD TO GO TO THE OFFICE.

Q.—Did you ask him where he got the information? A.—Yes, but he wouldn't tell me. He said he couldn't tell me as he was in a hurry to go to the office.

Q.—Did he give any reason why he wouldn't? A.—I don't remember.

Q.—Did you ask him to go to the office with you? A.—I don't remember.

Q.—Did he go to the office with you? A.—I don't remember.

SHIDEHARA SAYS TOKIO DECISION TO ENTER PARLEY HAS PEOPLE'S SUPPORT

Washington, Aug. 8.—The Japanese Ambassador, Baron Shidehara, today declared that the Japanese government's decision to enter parley with the United States over the Manchurian situation was supported by the Japanese people.

Shidehara said that the Japanese government's decision was based on the principle of justice and that it was in the best interests of the Japanese people.

He said that the Japanese government was confident that it would be able to reach a fair and reasonable settlement with the United States.

DISPUTES JAP LONDON EMBASSY

The Japanese embassy in London today disputed the statement that the Japanese government had decided to enter parley with the United States over the Manchurian situation.

The embassy said that the Japanese government had not made any such decision and that the statement was a distortion of the truth.

The embassy said that the Japanese government was still in the process of considering the situation and that it would make a decision in due time.

GRILLED ON PIRACY CASE

Attorney-General Allen cross-examined Tufts thoroughly in connection with restitution money which had gone through his office in the Huribury, Barry and Collamore automobile cases.

He asked Tufts to explain the source of the money and how it was distributed.

Tufts said that the money was given to him by a certain person and that he had distributed it as he saw fit.

Allen said that he was not satisfied with Tufts' explanation and that he would continue to grill him on the matter.

ADMITTED HE HAD BEEN IN THE OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL AT THE TIME OF THE CASE.

Q.—Did you admit that you had been in the office of the attorney-general at the time of the case? A.—Yes, I did.

Q.—Did you admit that you had been in the office of the attorney-general at the time of the case? A.—Yes, I did.

Q.—Did you admit that you had been in the office of the attorney-general at the time of the case? A.—Yes, I did.

MAY COLLINS DENIES SECRET MARRIAGE TO CHARLEY CHAPLIN

CAN HE SUCCEED CARUSO?
The musical critics say Beniamino Gigli, a show me a k e r a son, is the most probable successor to the great tenor. He was here in Italy (K. & H.)

MY WORD, DEAR FELLOW! This is called the "fappers' lognette," used by young ladies to rebuke haughty dappers when they stare at them. Girls say it really achieves its purpose. (U. & U.)

SNAPPY, BUT SMART! Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma (right), only woman Congressman, is "strong" for knickers. Shown putting her O. K. on those worn by Miss Dorothy Cameron. (W. W.)

WOOD AND WATER! Mrs. A. J. Bennett of 42 Elm St., Dover, N. H., is awarded $5 for this charming photo in the sea beauty test. Scores of small, indignant epigrams are received daily. Only clear and well defined photos are desirable. Don't get discouraged if a picture is returned to you. Something was a wrong with it, and in photos to Editorial Editor.

Strenuous Sports

WAR WELCOME! So great were the crowds eager to catch a glimpse of President De Valera that soldiers were forced, with their usual alacrity, to use their guns to keep them back. (U. & U.)

A FLIRTATION WITH DEATH! Mrs. W. Ritchie took the jump at the Tisbury Cattle Show, England, but not before she had had the thrills of her life. Her mount landed just beyond the water trap, hesitated, wavered at the edge, and then galloped himself up and dashed ahead. Photograph was caught just before the animal landed on the other side of the trap. (U. & U.)

"FORTY LOVE!" Play tennis in your bathing suit and become a Miss. Langton, is the advice of Miss Mabel Barnes. (Int.)

THREE OF THE SEALS brought from Alaska to the Woodlark Zoo, Seattle, died because they were too young to eat fish and refused all other food. This little chap, "Higgs" by name, was saved by "hooking" condensed milk into him with a syringe. (Int.)

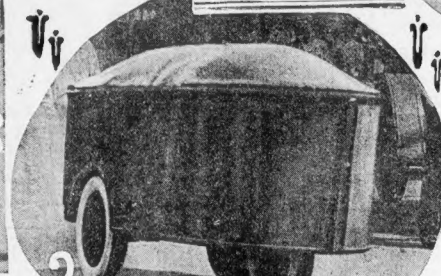

"I SHOULD SAY NOT!" That's what May Collins said when asked if she had married Charley Chaplin secretly. She denied that they were even engaged.

LIGHT-NING! Mrs. Malla Bjornstahl Mel-lory, after defeating Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup for the N. Y. city title, is undergoing a strenuous training campaign in an effort to pin defeat on the "French Flash," Miss L. Longin. They play for title at West Side Tennis Club (N. Y.) Aug. 15. She does not fear Paris marvel.

SEE WAVES! Fashion rules that the marcel wave shall rule this season, and that bobbed hair is losing its popularity. Take warning, girls. Miss Alice Feasberg is showing the latest evolution of the marcel wave. Observe the saucy manner in which it curls down over her eye without imparting a coarse look.

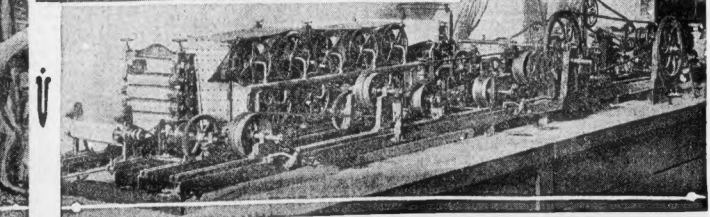

THIS AUTO, driven by radio, nearly drove the traffic cop at Dayton, O., crazy when he saw it. Controlled by radio following it demonstrated by Capt. R. E. Vaughn. (U. & U.)

PUTT, PUTT, PUTT! Jim Barnes, new American open golf champion, makes practice work pleasurable by teaching the great Scotch game, and here is one of his most apt pupils, Miss Mary P. Kerr. He is showing her how to putt on the Pelham Country Club course, N. Y. No, Oscar, Mr. Barnes has no difficulty in keeping his mind on the game. (Int.)

DOLPHIN GRACE! Miss Alice Edridge, one of the most skillful, not to mention prettiest, of New England diving nymphs, will be a feature attraction at the Boston American's water carnival in the Charles River Basin Saturday afternoon, Aug. 27. She will give an exhibition of fancy diving. Don't fail to see her. Every intricate type of fancy dive will be shown.

SMALL, BUT EFFECTIVE! This mass of cogs and wheels is the smallest paper making machine in the world. It does every thing that the bulky and costly machines will. The machine is now on exhibition at the Graphic Arts Exhibition, Cullman, Chicago. The device, which is the only one of its kind in the world, is less than nine feet in length. The average paper making machine weighs several thousand tons and is more than 200 feet in length. Many of the bearings are no larger than those of a watch. It has every operation for the making of paper from the time the pulp is fed to the grinder and through every process necessary to produce paper. The paper comes out in widths of four inches. (Int.)

MODERN AND BEACON THEATRE—Wallace Reid achieved a big success at the Modern and Beacon Theatres in "Too Much Speed," an automobile story of the type which he has made very popular with film fans. His supporting cast included Agnes Ayres and Theodore Roberts. "Wanda Hawley" in "Her Story," the other feature photograph is a sparkling drama from the pen of Elmer Harris, who has also contributed many masterpieces to the filmland. "Her Story" is in the company of Harris' vein and was especially well-received by Miss Hawley and other available players in mind, so that their roles fit them all to a "T."

MOVIE BRIDE AND HUSBAND IN KEITH'S SKIT

Claire Whitney and Robert Emmett Keane Top Bill;

Other Features

Don't play yourself if you are unable to get away from the city and go to the seashore or mountains for August. Drop in at Keith's any afternoon or evening this week and see Claire Whitney and Robert Emmett Keane in "The Gossipy Set."

You will forget all about the red sea waves and mountain excursions as you listen to the witty remarks of this pair. Claire Whitney, as you know, is one of the most popular of our moving picture heroines. And she is also the bride of the versatile Mr. Keane.

Somebody suggested that they do a vaudeville act as part of their honeymoon tour. This unique idea appealed to the couple and so a special act was written. It is your privilege to see it at Keith's and get 100 per cent. of laughs and forget all about your friends who are away from the city.

As though Claire Whitney and her brand new husband were not enough for a big bill, there is an act called "Two Little Pals." This feature dancers, singers, and comedians. You laugh until you have forgotten all about the scarcity of apartments and the lack of spare tires and such things.

Then you have Mary Clark, billed as "The Girl of the Year," Howard and Bader, two "gerry" made in "Wedding Bells," Fred Miller and Bert Chapman. In an interesting sketch, the four Lemays, suppose maritalists, and Dallas Walker, last interesting girl from Texas.

"I am glad I didn't start my vacation this week," was the way a young woman from Wallonia expressed herself after having laughed for two hours at Monday's matinee.

GORDON'S OLD SOUTH AND GORDON'S OLYMPIA—Local movie fans agreed last night that in "Wedding Bells," Constantine Talmadge had scored one of his most pleasing bits which was shown at Gordon's Old South and Gordon's Olympia.

Story from the stage play by Salisbury Field and has been made famous by the inclusion of a number of additional comic situations and fine clever acting of the star and her supporting cast.

DANCE STARS TO APPEAR AT CONDOT'S

Danny Duggan and Anne Pierce Engaged to Give E. Condot's

This Week

Condot's Summer ballroom at Revere Beach will undoubtedly be crowded to capacity on tomorrow, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, the special attraction being the return of Danny Duggan and Anne Pierce, local favorites and premier dance artists of New England.

Danny Duggan's unusual ability as a dancer was first attested six years ago when he carried off first honors in the first annual diamond ring and New England championship dancing contest staged at this popular ballroom.

Since this event Duggan and his partner have won fame in the dancing world second only to that enjoyed by the late Vernon Castle, creator of many of the modern dances. The return of this team to the place that started them on their successful career will be marked by a grand reception at many of their old friends and admirers who are sure to turn out to give them a rousing reception.

They will present on this occasion an entire new repertoire of novelties and fancy dances never before presented in this vicinity.

CAMBRIDGE CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE—The most hated man in England is the villain of his several years before the public by Joseph "Gilmore," who appeared in "Mother of Mine" at Gordon's Cambridge Theatre this week. The more heartily the public "hates" the villain, the more successful his work, as he is always cast as the "villain of the piece."

PARK THEATRE—Alice Calhoun in "Classed Doors" the feature picture at the Park Theatre this week was never seen to better advantage than in this excellent production which was directed by C. V. Seiffert, who for ten years was director and leading comedian at the Irving Theatre, New York.

Calhoun has as his leading man, Harry C. Brown, who has played as a leading man with many well known actresses, including Lillian Russell, Francis Starr and Rose Blum.

REVERE BEACH—Thousands of people last night witnessed magnificent display of fireworks at Revere Beach. The exhibition, which is free to all, was put on at 8 o'clock and lasted for one hour, during which the immense throng stretched along the boulevard viewed with amazement the large number of novelties that were hurled upward in their brilliant illumination.

PLAYS THAT REMAIN
TRINITY THEATRE—George M. Cohan's Comedian in "The O'Brien Girl" began the fifteenth week of its engagement at the Trinity Theatre last night. Only three weeks remain for the play, which has not yet seen George M. Cohan's latest and best work.

GLOBE THEATRE—"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" last night ushered in the fifteenth week of its engagement in this city. This tremendous spectacle is now housed at the Globe Theatre on Washington Street, near the corner where it is happily destined to establish a long record.

SELYN THEATRE—The Selwyn Theatre, formerly the Park Square, opened its box office this morning for the public sale of the Boston engagement of "Enter Madame," which opened at this intimate playhouse on next Monday night, August 15.

COLONIAL THEATRE—"The Colonial Theatre" will open its new season next Monday with the presentation by Charles Dillingham for the first time on any stage of the new comedy by Rilla Johnson Young, "A New Child," with Virginia Hall as the featured player. The cast will include many well-known players as Robert McWade, Douglas Stevenson, Charles Allen, Ida Hurt, Wright Kramer, William Ingersoll, R. N. Lewis, Sara Doright and Beatrice Tremaine.

PLYMOUTH—Seats go on sale today at the Plymouth Theatre box office for the opening attraction of the season, Walter Boussan, the romantic Irish singing actor, in "Irish Eyes."

SUFFERED WITH ITCHY PIMPLES
Also Blackheads on Face, Lost Sleep, Cuticura Heals.

"I suffered with pimples and blackheads for more than a year. My face was just covered with them. They were red and hard, and itched a great deal. I could not sleep at night on account of the irritation."

"I tried all sorts of remedies but without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment which helped me, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely 'healed'."

Other Theatres

GORDON'S STRAND—Presenting charming pictures of life in Quebec. "A War Week" an unusually refreshing George Melford production for a moment, scored a decisive hit at Gordon's Strand Theatre. The story, which is based on Sir Gilbert Parker's novel, "The Money Master," deals with an aggressive French-Canadian philosopher who is wrapped up in his own dream of self-immolation, but who is later disillusioned and turns to the discovery that the outside world knows no better than the merest words that crawl.

ORPHEUS THEATRE—A snappy all-star show is presented to the patrons of Orpheus Theatre. This same bill will be repeated today and tomorrow. The vaudeville is of exceptional merit and each act, no much deserving applause. "Day mates" are presented, a comedy quartet of the day's players. Other acts of merit included French, Irish and American. Fred Jones, a local star, and the Musical Tuxedo. The latter picture, which is a comedy, with the excellence of the vaudeville.

It is entitled "The Prince of New York," based on the novel by Conno Hamilton which is presented as the featured play with a surrounding cast of capable performers.

GORDON'S HOLLY SQUARE—OLYMPIA—a rare example of artistic and new repertoire of novelties coupled with an unusually powerful and gripping story, may be seen at Gordon's Holly Square Olympia.

REVERE BEACH—A rare example of artistic and new repertoire of novelties coupled with an unusually powerful and gripping story, may be seen at Gordon's Holly Square Olympia.

BOSTON THEATRE—"Who Am I?" a story of action and suspense interest from the pen of Max Brand, the feature picture at the Boston Theatre this week. "Who Am I?" is a story of a man who is accused of a crime and is cast of carefully and well known players are acting in a leading role under the direction of Henry Henry.

REVERE BEACH—Thousands of people last night witnessed magnificent display of fireworks at Revere Beach. The exhibition, which is free to all, was put on at 8 o'clock and lasted for one hour, during which the immense throng stretched along the boulevard viewed with amazement the large number of novelties that were hurled upward in their brilliant illumination.

Evening Athletics

From Athletics
Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 5. (Herald-Examiner.)—The Philadelphia Athletics today won their first game since the season began, defeating the New York Yankees, 4 to 2, in 11 innings. The Athletics were down 2 to 0 in the seventh inning, but they made good in the eighth, scoring three runs. The Yankees scored in the ninth, but the Athletics won the game. The Athletics are now 1-0 in the season, while the Yankees are 0-1.

For the past 10 years, I have been working in the field of international development. I have been fortunate to work with some of the most talented and dedicated people in the world. I have also been able to make a significant impact on the lives of many people in need. I am proud of the work I have done and the people I have met. I am looking forward to continuing my work in the future.

And, of course, yards ago after being knocked out by Pete Herman, a former boxing champion, has decided to go into the ring, probably eventually to become known here today as "The Fighting Irishman." Pete has been spending the Summer months at the farm at Watertown, Mass. Agnew has received several offers of bouts.

By Constance Gordon † the Harris house. "Come on out,

Edgar as Aunt Jane thru the doorway. "What a beautiful day! Isn't it?" he said, with a hearty laugh. "Bring Aunt Amelia down. Mother is with me and we are going out to take her to swim."

Aunties Consented

Reluctantly the aunts consented to go. "I'll get the carriage," said Edgar, "and you two will be ready in half an hour. You'll want to be ready, won't you?"

Edgar, who turned frequently to see a word or two in their direction, then went out. "I'll be back in half an hour," he said, and then the aunts were hurried off to the bath, that underneath the modest, parlor-looking room, was a room of the most fitting red trimmed to match. New towels and soap were laid out, and Edgar completed the costume. Aunt Jane snuffed disdainfully. Aunt Amelia, however, was a woman of the world, and she was not so easily taken in. "We were back home, where her pearls and diamonds were," she said, "and she was a different woman."

Edgar drove the car close to the "gate" and turned it so that his aunt and auntie could see a view of the bath.

"I'll be back in half an hour," he said to the bathers.

"I'll go to the water," he said to Virginia. "I'll go to the water and get into my suit."

Virginia and Aunt Amelia both swam toward the rail.

"I'll be back in half an hour," said Edgar as he saw the ladies seated in the bath and their eyes met.

The older woman bent solicitously toward the boy, touching his forehead with her hand, wet ringlets falling over her face close to the pale hair. "You have been so softer than milk and Jane took such notice of it," she said. "I am glad you went clear to the scrap."

A relative," breathed Aunt Jan thankfully "I suppose it's all right for her to be down in his office if she's a relative?" she asked.

"There Aunt Jane, do you call that punishment?" asked Edgar, nodding the added flush on the girl's face.

"You've been unjust."

"No," said Virgie softly, "not unjust, but not kind. You can't blame them for not wanting their nephew to marry a drug store clerk. Maybe you're right like me!"

In turns, Aunt Jane and Aunt Amelia kissed her.

He tried to smile, but the lines around his eyes and mouth were too deep, too permanent.
He looked at her, and she looked at him, and for a moment they were just two people in a room, trying to understand each other. But then she looked away, and he knew that he had lost her. And he knew that he had lost himself.

Paying Expenses
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I have been going about with a young lady for a year. We have had a great time together and I have enjoyed her very much. I have been thinking about her a lot and I have been wondering how I can pay for her expenses. I have been thinking about it a lot and I have been wondering how I can pay for her expenses. I have been thinking about it a lot and I have been wondering how I can pay for her expenses.
